The Dark by James Carter

Why are we so afraid of the dark?

It doesn't bite and doesn't bark

Or chase old ladies round the park

Or steal your sweeties for a lark

And though it might not let you see

It lets you have some privacy

And gives you time to go to sleep

Provides a place to hide or weep

It cannot help but be around

When beastly things make beastly sounds

When back doors slam and windows creek

When cats have fights and voices shriek

The dark is cosy, still and calm

And never does you any harm

In the loft, below the sink

It's somewhere nice and quiet to think

Deep in cupboards, pockets too

It's always lurking out of view

Why won't it come out till it's night?

Perhaps the dark's afraid of light

You might be afraid of the dark, but the dark is not afraid of you. That's why the dark is always close by.

The dark peeks round the corner and waits behind the door, and you can see the dark up in the sky almost every night, gazing down at you as you gaze up at the stars.

Without a creaky roof, the rain would fall on your bed, and without a smooth, cold window, you could never see outside, and without a flight of stairs, you could never go into the basement, where the dark spends its time.

Without a cupboard, you would have nowhere to put your shoes, and without a shower curtain, you would splash water all over the bathroom, and without the dark, everything would be light, and you would never know if you needed a lightbulb.

Do you agree or disagree?

I don't think... because

I like it that... because

I think...is wrong

Can I say how different objects are powered?

What makes these things move or work?
