

Aslacton Primary School - Newsletter Friday 12th March 2021

This term our Core Value is: Caring

This week in Aslacton

Here is a snapshot of our learning this week: Owls have been exploring floating and sinking, building boats and exploring floating paper flowers. They have also been measuring gold and working out the best way to move heavy gold. A smiley week back. Kestrels have had a lovely week getting back into the swing of things! In celebration of International Women's Day, we have learnt about the life of conservationist and animal behaviour expert, Dr Jane Goodall. We have drawn portraits and have started to create fact files about her. In maths, we have begun our topic on shape by learning about polygons, quadrilaterals, right angles and irregular shapes. We have also continued our Wild Robot core story by writing persuasive emails and putting our drama skills to use by re-enacting some eventful moments! Eagles have celebrated International Women's Day by studying the pioneering, American artist Georgia O'Keeffe. We have studied her life, written biography profiles and recreated some of her famous artwork for our classroom display. In maths, the children have enjoyed 'transformations' - calculating translated and reflected co-ordinates across four quadrants. A fun and happy first week back!

Message from Mrs. Haines

What an amazing week!

The children (and parents) have been super happy they have returned to school and there has been an awesome array of fun learning activities. Kestrel and Eagle have also celebrated International Women's Day by exploring the life and work of Dr Jane Goodall and Georgia O'Keeffe, respectively.

Still, very much, at the forefront of our minds is the children's social, emotional, physical and mental health, which the last Lockdown has had such an impact on. One of our initiatives to support wellbeing has been especially popular - 'class toast day' - you can't beat a piece of toast.

I would like to thank all my staff for working so hard this week with welcoming the children back and settling them back into the daily routines.
