Story time	Watch the Worrysaurus by Rachel Bright	A still from the animated film 'Wallace & Gromit: The Curse of the Were-Rabbit' showing Wallace and Gromit giving thumbs up.
A challenge for today	Stop Motion Animation Watch the BBC Bitesize clip: How does animation work? - BBC Bitesize Watch an episode of Wallace and Gromit together to see how stop animation works. Using a stop motion setting on a smartphone or tablet, experiment and make a short stop motion animation. The theme can be your choice. Lego figures are easy to use for this as you can move their arms and legs very slowly. Share your animation with us and send it to a friend.
Helping to get ready to return	Look at Page 2 where Worrysaurus finds a little tin and puts some of his favourite things inside it to help him to feel better. Work with your family to create your own happiness box. Talk about what happiness is. What does it look like? Can you make a happy face in the mirror? Talk together about the things that make you happy. Find a box and decorate it ; turning it into a Happiness Box. Perhaps you could draw some of your favourite things on the outside and label it. Once ready, start putting some; objects, drawings and photos into your box. Your box can be added to over time . Keep your happiness box somewhere safe and remember that you can look at it and use it to cheer you up whenever you feel worried or sad.
