Dear Parents and Carers,

New Reading Books

We are delighted to let you know that we have invested in a range of new reading books which your child will start bringing home from next week.

The new books work alongside our phonics teaching and your child should be able to read them independently which will support their development and fluency. The text is 'decodable' meaning the children can break the words down by sounding them out and then blending the sounds together. It may seem these books are easier than those previously sent home as they will only contain the sounds and key words we have taught in school and the children are familiar with.

Your child will also bring home a second, trickier, reading book each week which will have a label as follows:

This is a book for sharing

The second book is for you to share with your child, reading together, and helping with the more difficult text.

Both books will be changed regularly in class after your child has read with a member of staff. We will re-read and send home the same books more than once to help with fluency, comprehension, and to show that your child has mastered the sounds and words on more than one occasion. Please continue to write in your child's reading record for both books as you listen to them and read together at home.

Thank you for your support,

Kind regards,

Miss Raine
